

The University of Georgia Department of Geography

Fred E. Dohrs Annual Lecture Series in Economic Geography Presents:

Dr. Julie Guthman

Associate Professor
Community Studies Department
University of California at Santa Cruz

Topic:

Up Against the Limits of Alternative Food: the Case of the "Obesogenic Environment"

Dr. Guthman is the author of Agrarian Dreams: The Paradox of Organic Farming in California. Her interests include sustainable agriculture and alternative food movements, international political economy of food and agriculture, politics of obesity, political ecology, race and food, and critical human geography.

Friday, November 6, 2009

3:30 PM

GGY Room 200C

